area.

They lost two games in the regular season in back-to-back weeks during a time Kirtland was fighting injuries. Since then, the Hornets have won four in a row, outscoring opponents 153-14.

"Their quarterback throws the ball real well and runs when he needs to," said Yeagley. "Offensively, they are like a Mineral Ridge that features one back, but has others that can come right at us as well."

The Hornets are led by standout running back Rossi Santo, a two-year starter. The junior has scored 26 touchdowns this season. His running mate in the backfield is Eric Ritossa.

Yeagley says defensively, Kirtland resembles Crestview, a team that "plays an odd front and really moves around a lot on defense."

South Range and Kirtland share one common opponent this season, having both played Independence. The Hornets lost 34-28 in double overtime, while the Raiders scored a 42-7 victory.

"But that was back when Kirtland was struggling with injuries," Yeagley pointed out. "They are back and healthy right now and playing their best football of the year. We know we'll have to be ready to play on Friday night."
